

EISENHOWER HOPEFUL OF PEACE PROSPECTS

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

Two Occupations Take Plenty of Skill, Dexterity

THERE ARE TWO OCCUPATIONS that amaze me. The skill and dexterity with which the doers of these jobs perform their chores without slip or fault is a sight to behold—to Timotheus, anyhow.

One of these occupations is the driving of a semi-trailer truck in cases where the driver has to back his mammoth vehicle into close places.

One of the most awe-inspiring phases of my job is to walk to the city hall at a time one of the big semi's is being back into the alley behind Montgomery Ward, the gas company office, Lloyd L. Parker's, C. F. Gidcomb's, Arensman's, Davenport's and the Harrisburg National Bank, and if I've left anybody out, let me run to cover.

When the driver starts backing into the narrow slot it looks like there's not room enough at all for the big trailer. And when the boxcar on tires goes into the alley, it appears that there's about two and a half inches of space on each side.

I really don't see how the boys do it. It might be fairly easy, but if I had to do it I know I'd go into a nervous convulsion before I was a half dozen feet from the alley proper.

And if I did work up the nerve, heaven help the truck and the walls of the buildings.

THE OTHER FASCINATING occupation is auctioneering. Don't you get a kick out of watching and listening to a first class auctioneer when he's working hard to get the price up.

How they can make the words flow so fast and can spot the birds so quickly in the crowd around me is something of Timmo couldn't do with all the coaching and practice in the world.

If you want to hear some first class auctioneering just drop up to the court house square Thursday night around eight o'clock. There you'll see a couple of veterans, John and Bill Endsley, in action.

These boys are holding the Salvation Army auction at which the money will go to the local post, which needs it so much that I can't describe the dire need in this meagre column.

People are giving items to be auctioned to raise funds for the local post, which is broke, and that's no kidding.

So come on out Thursday night and see the auctioneers in action for a bit of fascinating watching. And if you have something to give to the auction, bring it along. And you never can tell—you'll probably find something up for a bid that you want, and can get real cheap.

Kivansians Entertained By Quiz, Declaration Of Independence Talk

A quiz on general education, sports and "things seen every day" was presented at the meeting of the Kivans club last night by Gene Morris, program chairman for the evening. The quiz was beneficial to most of the members present as was evident from "lack of correct answers."

Ray Durham, at the close of the meeting gave a short talk on the signing of the Declaration of Independence, stating the importance shown by those present at the meeting when the Declaration was signed.

Indicating the seriousness with which the signers considered their action, Durham said were the closing words "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor."

Harold Smith of Mt. Carmel was a visiting Kivansian at last night's meeting held at the Masonic temple.

Woman Killed in Water-Skiing Accident

LA SALLE, Ill. — A young woman was killed Tuesday night in a water-skiing accident in the Illinois River.

Authorities said Mrs. Betty Albert, 24, La Salle, hit an obstruction, believed to be a steel piling. Her body was recovered from 30 feet of water 45 minutes later.

Mrs. Albert was being towed by a boat piloted by her husband, Donald.

Controversial Bills Passed By Legislature

See Little Hope Of Quitting Before Final Deadline

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Illinois legislative leaders today threw hopes of adjournment before Thursday's final deadline out the window as the Senate-House calendars stayed filled with some 500 bills.

But both houses disposed of a long list of highly controversial measures Tuesday including:

1. Korean veterans bonus: The Senate gave final passage to a 150-million-dollar bonus bill, heading it for Gov. William G. Stratton's desk and a possible veto.

If the governor should sign the bill, the bonus provision would be submitted to voters at a referendum at the 1956 general election.

The bill would pay servicemen $10 per month for domestic duty and $15 per month for foreign duty for the period June 26, 1950, to July 26, 1953.

The bonuses would be paid thru a 150-million-dollar bond issue financed by taxes on horse race pari-mutuel betting and alcoholic liquor sales.

The Senate passed the bill 24-2, with four members voting present.

William W. Downey, Stratton's top aide, said, "The governor has already stated at a press conference he is in favor of a bonus for those who served in the war theatre but not for all the men in service during the Korean War."

The bill which was passed would pay a bonus to all.

Sen. Dennis J. Collins (R-DeKalb) said the passage "puts the governor in a very difficult position."

2. Taxes: The House passed 79-66 after a hard fight carried on by administration leaders and Chicago Democrats, the bills permitting a 5 per cent city tax on the gross receipts of public utilities.

The utility tax was the last of four major tax provisions in the agreed plan of Stratton and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Municipal governments may levy by ordinance a tax of up to 5 per cent on gross receipts of electric, telephone, gas, water and other utilities to automatically pass on the tax to their customers.

Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna) said: "It doesn't make any difference how you disguise this, the people are going to pay the tax."

But Rep. Richard Stengel (D-Rock Island) called it "the fairest kind of tax because it is on the graduate basis, the person who uses these things the most is going to pay the most."

Rep. Franklin U. Stransky (R-Savanna) called the bill "another

Hoover Group Urges Bolder Counter-Spying

WASHINGTON (UP) — A Hoover Commission task force called today for bolder U. S. counter-spying on Russia and other Communist countries as a matter of "self-preservation" and to forestall the possibility of another Pearl Harbor.

To this end, it recommended reorganization of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) so there can be "complete, prompt and continuing information on the plans and potentialities of those who would enslave" the free world.

It said there is a serious lack of "adequate intelligence data" on Russia, Red China and other Communist nations—"our primary target" in the field of spying and counter-spying.

The task force rejected charges aired by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) during the televised Army-McCarthy hearings that the CIA is infested with security risks. It found "no valid ground for the suspicion."

It did, however, recommend that employees in the various U. S. intelligence agencies be given a security check-up at least once every five years to make sure they have not "changed character, fallen in grace or succumbed to alien blandishments of some personal weakness such as strong drink or sexual perversion."

The group, headed by Gen. Mark W. Clark, said the nation's intelligence agencies are led by "sincere and dedicated" men who merit the "full confidence and support of the American people."

It sharply criticized "some" American diplomats for their reluctance and "abhorrence" in digging out information because of diplomatic niceties.

The recommendations were forwarded to Congress without comment by the parent Hoover Commission.

Boost in State Sales Tax in Effect Friday

Revenue Dep't Says Merchants Must Figure Own Charges

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The 2½ per cent retailer's occupational tax, or so-called sales tax, will start Friday but the Illinois Revenue Department will give no advice to merchants on the rate of collection.

The Revenue department said today it is up to the merchants and their organizations to figure out how much tax to charge on each item.

The Illinois Federation of Retail Assns. already has mailed out cards with recommended tax rates.

But the State Revenue Department does not furnish these figures for retailers because technically the buyer is not supposed to pay the tax. The retailer is supposed to pay the tax for the privilege of doing business.

Thus, the so-called sales tax is not really a sales tax. The retailer merely treats his tax as a sales tax by passing it on to the buyer.

A table of "breaks" on the new "use" tax will be issued by the State Revenue Department, however, before it takes effect Aug. 1.

This use tax is aimed at making Illinois residents pay a matching tax to the sales tax on items they buy outside Illinois, for use here.

But it is phrased in such a way that it applies to all purchases, in or out of Illinois, of things to be used here. It will be 2½ per cent, like the sales tax.

From the customer's standpoint, the "use" tax will replace the state "sales" tax. Fred Goerlitz of the Chicago Retail Merchants Assn. gave this example of the new "use" tax and its collection:

Suppose you buy a $10 straw hat. The haberdasher will bill you $10, plus 25 cents "use" tax on a $10 hat. He will turn in a separate report, saying he had $10 gross receipts, on which the merchant himself owes the state 25 cents retail occupation tax.

The state then will advise the merchant he may use the 25 cents "use" tax he collected to pay his retail occupation tax debt.

The Illinois buyer of purchases made out of state will be liable for paying the tax directly to the State Revenue Department. Forms will be prepared for buyers to report their out-of-state purchases.

State Gets 6 Per Cent
Buyers who make out-of-state purchases of many items will be able to escape the tax unless local merchants who lose the business turn them in. But buyers of motor vehicles, which must be registered with the state, and cigarettes and tobacco, which must be reported to the federal government if shipped interstate, will be easily caught if they fail to pay the tax.

It is also expected large business and industry which buy equipment and machinery out-of-state will pay the tax voluntarily.

The state will also collect the 1½ cent city sales tax for any city governments which levy it. This tax can be levied from Friday on.

The state will get 6 per cent of the city tax for its collection expense. The state will have to print new forms to show the payment of city tax but the revenue department already separates retailers' payments by city so the statistical change will be simple. Some new help will be added, however.

Here are the tax brackets or collect "breaks" on the 2½ per cent tax as recommended by the Illinois Federation of Retail Assns.: 1-13 cent purchase, no tax; 14 to 49 cents, 1 cent; and 50-89 cents, 2 cents. From then on, add a penny every 40 cents.

The youth gave no reason for his actions. He said he lit two candles at the altar before setting the fire in a closet of the Episcopal Church.

Gallant Students Spread Cloaks for Queen Elizabeth

DUNDEE, Scotland (UP) — Unlike her namesake, Queen Elizabeth wasn't quite sure what to do Tuesday when three gallant students spread their cloaks in her path.

She shot a worried look at Prof. Rutherford Dow, master of Queen's College. He assured her that, like the fabled Sir Walter Raleigh, the students wanted her to tread upon their cloaks.

The Queen, who had just returned from Norway with the Duke of Edinburgh, gracefully stepped on the garments and thanked the owners with a smile.

Safety Council Estimates 380 Holiday Deaths

CHICAGO (UP) — Safety experts estimated today that 380 Americans will die in Fourth of July highway accidents, 25 of them in Illinois.

The Chicago Motor Club said the probable Illinois toll would include 13 dead in Cook County—6 of these in Chicago—and 12 killed downstate.

The club also predicted about 940 traffic accidents would occur in Illinois during the three-day weekend, with 700 persons injured and an economic loss of $2,750,000.

The National Safety Council termed it the "biggest holiday on wheels in America's history."

The council predicted that 40 million vehicles will be on the move during the three-day holiday. It pleaded for extra caution to prove that the council's estimate was too high.

"More travel does not have to bring more accidents," Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said. "All we need is more safe drivers. When you start out this weekend, make up your mind to prevent just one accident—the one that may involve you."

The council's estimate covers traffic deaths that occur from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday to midnight Monday.

To insure themselves against accidents, the council urged drivers to:

1. Travel at about 10 m.p.h. below normal speeds.
2. Start trips early enough so that they won't have to rush to reach their destinations.
3. Stay alert.
4. Don't compete with other drivers.

5. Pass only one car at a time and allow a clear margin of safety.

6. Slow down at sundown so their cars can stop in the range of its headlights. Don't drive when overtired or sleepy.

Employment Offices Move to New Quarters

The offices of the Illinois State Employment Service and the Division of Unemployment Compensation were being moved today to new quarters on West Poplar street.

The offices, which have been on North Main street for years, will be opened to the public tomorrow at 18-20 West Poplar.

The new location consists of two rooms, one 24 by 100 feet, the other 17½ by 24. The west room will house the employment service and the east room the unemployment compensation offices.

The building being occupied gives the offices ample space. It was remodeled and redecorated by the owners, O. L. Turner Sr. and Guy McCormack, to meet the needs of the services.

A passageway has been cut between the two rooms, the interior has been repainted, new windows and a lighting system engineered by the Central Illinois Public Service Co. has been completed. New counters have been constructed, new Venetian blinds ordered and an air-conditioning system installed.

Vinson Rites Thursday 2 p. m.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lula Ann Vinson, Harrisburg resident who died yesterday at 9:40 a. m. in the Lightner hospital, will be Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Dorris Heights Methodist church. The former pastor, Ruth Martin will officiate, assisted by Rev. J. W. Duke, pastor of the North Willford Baptist, and burial will be in the Big Ridge cemetery.

The body lies in state at the Harrisburg funeral home.

Palbearers will be Alvis Rude, Bob Bryant, Walter Josey, Earl Bruce, Fred Wilmoth and Logan Steapleton.

Stratton Signs Legislative Remap Measure

Action Gives Illinois Larger General Assembly

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Gov. William G. Stratton climaxed his greatest triumph as chief executive by signing the legislative reapportionment bill Tuesday, the first legislative remapping since 1901.

The governor's signature gave Illinois a new and larger General Assembly.

Surrounded by legislative leaders of both parties as befitting the occasion, Stratton said:

"This is unquestionably one of the basically most important pieces of legislation enacted in our time."

The bill abolishes the present 51 districts which have elected one senator and three representatives for the last 54 years.

Based on Population
It creates 58 new Senate districts, electing one senator each, and 59 new representative districts, electing one senator each, and 59 new representative districts, electing three representatives each.

Senators in the even numbered districts will be elected in 1956 and in the odd-numbered districts in 1958. All representatives will be elected in 1956. Representatives serve two year terms, senators four.

The Senate districts are drawn permanently on the basis of near-equal area. Downstate is carved into 34 Senate districts, Chicago into 18 and Cook county outside Chicago into 6.

This assures permanent downstate control of the Senate 34-24.

The House districts, based on near-equal population in the same three geographical divisions, will be re-drawn by the Legislature in 1963 and every 10 years thereafter, according to population shifts.

The present redistricting gives downstate 29 House districts, Chicago 23 and Cook county outside Chicago 7.

This gives Cook county a slim majority of at least until 1963.

Many governor and civic leaders before Stratton had failed to achieve legislative reapportionment, ordered by the constitution, but unenforced if the Legislature did not choose to carry out the order. Only once did the question get on the ballot in the half-century without change, in 1922 when the proposed amendment lost.

Mrs. George Fredericks Dies; Rites Here Friday

Mrs. Nell Pearce Fredericks, widow of the late George Fredericks, died at 8 p. m. Tuesday in Cincinnati, Ohio, where she made her home with her only daughter, Mrs. Don (Josephine) Casper.

Mrs. Fredericks was born and reared in this city, where the Pearce family which resided at 201 East Walnut street, was very well known. Two sisters survive, Mrs. Mae Cook Michaels, wife of Victor Michaels, Albion, and Mrs. Annie VanMeter, Princeton, Ind.

Mrs. B. W. Henley of this city is a sister of the late Mr. Fredericks. He was employed by Sahara Coal Co. in this city until about 12 years ago, when he went to Chicago and was a member of the Pearce Accounting firm there during the remainder of his life, dying July 28, 1954.

Her body is being brought to Harrisburg and after 4 p. m. Thursday will lie in state at the Gaskins funeral home, where her funeral will be held Friday at 10 a. m. Rev. W. L. Cummins will conduct the funeral service and burial will be at Sunset Hill cemetery.

The building being occupied gives the offices ample space. It was remodeled and redecorated by the owners, O. L. Turner Sr. and Guy McCormack, to meet the needs of the services.

A passageway has been cut between the two rooms, the interior has been repainted, new windows and a lighting system engineered by the Central Illinois Public Service Co. has been completed. New counters have been constructed, new Venetian blinds ordered and an air-conditioning system installed.

MISSING — Second Lt. David Winton Bell of Wayzata, Minn., above, is believed to be one of the three Marine jet fliers still missing on a small life raft near the island of Oshima, Japan. Rescue has been impossible because of a dense fog. (NEA Telephoto)

Helicopter Crashes During Hunt for Fliers

YOKOSUKA, Japan (UP) — A helicopter crashed today during the disaster-plagued search for three Marine fliers missing in the Pacific off Japan and the Navy announced that one of its four crew men is missing.

It was the third disaster of the week. On Sunday a fighter-bomber with two Marine officers aboard plunged into the sea off the mouth of Tokyo Bay. Tuesday a fighter-bomber of the vast search armada vanished in the mists over volcanic Oshima Island.

A hot summer sun had burned away the Pacific fog hampering the search for three missing U. S. Marine fliers, but mounting seas and negative reports from search planes and ships dimmed hopes for their survival.

The search had been broadened to seek the third missing Marine when the helicopter crashed.

Bearded and red-eyed Air Force, Army and Marine officers refused to give up though they were sleepless from continuous search operations since Sunday and the search went on today. Then came the crash of the helicopter to give their morale another blow.

The search had been broadened to seek the third missing Marine when the helicopter crashed.

Three Rescued
The Marine helicopter, flying from the deck of the USS White, a landing ship drydock, went down at noon. The three survivors were snatched from the water by another helicopter and flown to Yokosuka Naval Hospital. The missing crewman was not identified.

The helicopter crewmen rescued 2nd Lt. Robert Eugene Suedes, son of Robert W. Suedes, Ethan, S. D.; Cpl. Kyle Wayne Follett, son of Harrison Alton Follett, Fairview, Utah; and Cpl. James Willard Huskins, son of Emor James Huskinson, Osage, Wyo.

One of the missing fliers was Lt. Alan Murdock McAneny of Glenwood Gardens, Yonkers, N. Y., whose bride of three months, Margaret, lives near Atsugi Naval Air Station northwest of Yokohama. She is the daughter of Bradley C. Barnard, publisher of the Rome (N. Y.) Sentinel.

The two men he sought when he radioed his squadron leader he had lost him in the haze were Capt. Hodgen B. Montague of Jackson, Miss., and 2nd Lt. David W. Bell, 24, Wayzata, Minn., son of Charles H. Bell, president of General Mills.

Atomic Ship: He vigorously promoted his proposal for an atomic-powered merchant ship. He said it offered the chance to create a world-wide moral force for turning uranium to peaceful uses and the betterment of man.

Loyalty Review: He had no objection to the proposed creation of a congressional commission to check into the government's loyalty program. He said his administration has nothing to hide.

Natural Gas: He believes Congress is making progress in the very complicated problem of natural gas regulation, toward a solution which will protect the consuming public and at the same time encourage exploration.

Satellites: He withheld specific comment on congressional resolutions concerning the hope for freedom for Soviet satellites. But he reminded that there are limits on what this country can do to win their freedom. He specifically ruled out any war for liberation.

Foreign Aid: He said the results of the foreign aid program are proving themselves and, regardless of any apparent change in Soviet attitude, this is no time to relax the program.

Dixon-Yates: He said the Budget Bureau, under his direction, has produced all pertinent papers regarding the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract. He backed up Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes in his dispute over the files with Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

The 10-men-and-a-girl party was staged at the Cocoanut Grove, and to the tourists present it was the sight of the year. Zsa Zsa, wearing a flowered silk Dior gown, swept in on the arm of Lindsay.

Her nine other dates were waiting at the table.

Zsa Zsa danced twice with every man. Each time she got up, the party gallantly stood to a man. This resulted in a great deal of hopping up and down during the evening.

President is Critical of Democrat Claims

Banters About Political Future At News Conference

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today was hopeful about peace prospects, critical of Democratic legislative claims, and banters about his political future.

The President reacted with gravity, sternness, and jokes to many domestic and international matters called to his attention by newsmen at his first news conference in three weeks.

In a thoughtful mood, the President said he believes that chances of easing world tensions are better now than he thought two months ago.

He said he is trying not to expect too much from next month's Big Four heads-of-state conference in Geneva. But he said it is obvious that some change has taken place in Russia and the conference may be able to make some progress toward relieving world fears.

The President, as did Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Tuesday, seemed to discount the effect on the forthcoming conference of the latest U. S.-Russian plane incident off Alaska.

On the subject of Democratic claims for credit of what this Congress has achieved, the President said someone is confused as to where the credit lies.

He whipped out a sheet of paper and read to the news conference a long list of unpassed legislation which he said is vital to the United States.

These included highway construction, military reserves, health measures, Hawaiian statehood, minimum wages, and refugee act changes.

And he clearly wanted to establish that the initiative for the program which has been enacted lay in the White House. He said he would gladly give credit and his thanks for those items already passed, but he still wants more.

No Answer to 1956?
Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas gave Democrats credit Tuesday in a statement for the accomplishments of this Congress.

On politics, the President got into a jocular exchange with reporters about whether he might be a candidate for re-election next year. Again he gave no categorical answer to the question.

A reporter remarked that a lot of people seen on his recent New England speechmaking-fishing tour seemed to want him to run again. He responded with a grin that the reporters probably saw his friends along the road but didn't know who was in the alleys.

He added that his remarks about his 1956 political plans were made in a kidding nature.

On other subjects, the President had these remarks:

Atomic Ship: He vigorously promoted his proposal for an atomic-powered merchant ship. He said it offered the chance to create a world-wide moral force for turning uranium to peaceful uses and the betterment of man.

Loyalty Review: He had no objection to the proposed creation of a congressional commission to check into the government's loyalty program. He said his administration has nothing to hide.

Natural Gas: He believes Congress is making progress in the very complicated problem of natural gas regulation, toward a solution which will protect the consuming public and at the same time encourage exploration.

Water Resource Whirlwind Coming—Hold Your Hats

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Sweeping changes in the U. S. government's electric power, flood control, navigation, irrigation and reclamation policies are to be recommended soon by the Hoover Commission task force on water resources policy. It's headed by Adm. Ben Moreell, board chairman of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., of Pittsburgh.

A hint of what is to come in this 270-page report was given in a series of five speeches made by Adm. Moreell and his four subcommittee chairmen before the American Society of Civil Engineers at its recent St. Louis convention.

Without disclosing any of the specific recommendations to be made in the report when it is released in the near future, Adm. Moreell and his associates told the engineers what they found and what they thought about things personally.

The four subcommittee reports fill two volumes of 750 and 730 pages. They will be released simultaneously with the Hoover Commission recommendations. They are almost certain to create a great uproar from state and local governments, from water lobbies, farm organizations, special interest pressure groups and from congressmen with pet pork barrel projects.

THE DEPARTMENT OF INTER-IOR, Agriculture, the Army Corps of Engineers and all their bureaus which administer water resource projects won't like what comes out, either.

Only the private power companies and various business groups which oppose federal government spending on these projects are apt to be pleased.

Since 1824, when the government first went to work on water resources, over 14 billion dollars of taxpayers' money have been spent,
Adm. Moreell told the convention.
Additional projects authorized by Congress are valued at 18 billion dollars. Additional projects planned but not yet authorized are estimated at 70 billion dollars.

Having in mind the rapidly mounting public debt," said Adm.
Moreell, "it is evident that critical examination is overdue."

There is no clear-cut federal water policy, he charged.

Among the abuses and the corrective measures which he himself believes should be taken are these:

In hydro-electric development, the federal government has invaded a field which should be reserved for private enterprise.

No additional projects should be started and a beginning should be made on disposing of existing projects to state and local governments.

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT has used power and water developments for indirect social and political ends.

Navigation improvement projects have been constructed solely to bring pressure to bear on railroads and truckers to reduce freight rates.

The federal government has paid too large a share of the cost of water resource development and has required too little repayment from the beneficiaries.

In recent irrigation projects, required repayments have been between one-fourth and one-third of the capital cost. Some have been as low as one-tenth.

On flood control projects, the average local contributions have been only one-eighth of total costs.

An analysis of 212 Department of Agriculture upstream flood control projects showed the federal government bearing over 98 per cent of the cost.

Many projects have been constructed without economic justification of any kind, the Admiral declared.

The inclusion of many "indirect benefits" for such things as recreation, fish and wild-life preserves and national parks he described as "pure fantasy."

THE TASK FORCE found 43 officers and bureaus of the federal government engaged in water resource development last year.

"There is every indication," said Adm. Moreell, "that there is a lack of coordination which fosters competition among these agencies which causes controversy, confusion, duplication and waste and en-

Senate Committee

Kills Powell Bill

SPRINGFIELD (P) — The Illinois Senate Industrial Affairs Committee has killed a bill by Rep.
Paul Powell (D-Vienna) to set a state minimum wage at 75 cents an hour.

Reapportionment Passage Recalls Murder of Lawyer in Courtroom Battle

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Illinois Legislature has approved a new map of districts from which lawmakers are elected.
This dispatch tells of one man who became so irate about the failure to reapportion the state for half a century that he committed murder.

By TOM NELSON

United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (P) — Passage of reapportionment today recalled the strange case of John S. Keogh, who once shot and killed a lawyer as a "sacrifice" to draw attention to the problem.

Keogh gained a measure of fame here in the 1930s for his determined fight to win a new map of Illinois legislative districts.

He first came to public notice in 1930, when he was taken to court for failure to pay federal income taxes.

Keogh, a self-taught lawyer, handled his own defense. He pointed to the state constitution, which required new district boundaries to be drawn for the Legislature every ten years, to reflect population changes.

This hadn't been done since 1901.
Keogh argued it was "taxation without representation" to levy income taxes against him, until the federal government demanded a redistricting.

All Attempts Fail
He lost but that didn't stop him.
In the next six years, Keogh popped into court at the drop of a hat to renew his campaign.

He sought a writ from the Supreme Court to force a redistricting. He injected the issue into his defense against a foreclosure. He tried to prevent the seating of Illinois congressmen.

All these attempts failed.
The climax came Jan. 13, 1936, when a judge denied a motion by Keogh in a foreclosure suit here.
Keogh pulled out a gun and pointed it at the judge.

Christopher C. Kinney, the opposing lawyer, jumped to Keogh's side and began grappling with him. Keogh fired and Kinney fell dead.

Overpowered and disarmed after firing three more times in the panicked courtroom, Keogh told reporters "I hope this will bring enough ballyhoo to the front to prove my point."

"I'm taking this responsibility of risking my life to bring about constitutional reform in the state of Illinois," he said. "I'm doing this as a soldier, not as a mur-derer."

Jury Rules He's Sane

Doctors declared Keogh insane.
But Keogh successfully defended himself at a sanity hearing. He asked the main witness just one question:

"Doctor, didn't I tell you about reapportionment?"

Then Keogh lectured 45 minutes on the subject. Jurors debated 15 minutes and ruled he was sane — apparently, as one reporter put it, "wondering themselves why the state hasn't been reapportioned."

But Keogh was ordered to face a second hearing and this time his efforts were in vain. A judge committed him to the state security hospital at Chester.

Keogh died there at 83—eight years before the reapportionment he sought so single-mindedly became a realization.

Elect New Officers

The board of directors for the Southern Illinois Association of Life Underwriters held its first meeting at the Farm Bureau office in Marion. Archie Moore Named Fighter Of the Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight challenger Archie Moore and Ray Fenech of France, two veterans, were honored today as the Ring Magazine issued its latest ratings.

Light heavyweight champion Moore, 38, was named "Fighter of the Month" by the magazine because of his impressive knockout victory over middleweight ruler Bobo Olson last week.

Thirty-year old, Fenech, European featherweight champion, was boosted from third place to the top among contenders for the world 126-pound crown because of his recent victory over Billy Kelly of Ireland and because of the retirement of Percy Bassett.

Bassett of Philadelphia, who had been number one, retired because of an eye injury.

Tony DeMarco of Boston, who lost the welterweight title to Carmen Basilio, is listed as top contender.

Mario D'Agata of Italy replaced Raton Macias of Mexico as top bantamweight contender because of Macias' knockout by Billy Peacock of Los Angeles. Peacock was dropped to fourth. Peacock was elevated from tenth to sixth.

Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, broke into the middleweight ratings as number eight because of his victory over Gil Turner, who dropped from eighth to ninth.

Red Sox, Wearing Black Arm Bands for Agganis, Win Two Games from Senators

By CARL LUNDQUIST United Press Sports Writer

The name of Harry Agganis never again will appear in a box score but the quiet determination of his bereaved Boston Red Sox team mates tells a story without words—they're winning 'em now for the likeable Greek guy whose funeral is Thursday afternoon.

The Red Sox wore their black arm bands of mourning in silence and they played without the usual wise-cracks and razzing Tuesday night but they won two games, 4-0 and 8-2 over the Senators, the first on a three-hit shutout by Frank Sullivan, the second with an explosive eight-run rally in the ninth.

Sullivan, who now has won six games in a row, turned in his second straight shutout and Jack Jensen contributed three runs batted in on a homer and a sacrifice fly in the opener. Faye Thronberry also hit a homer. Sullivan who had a two-hit shutout over Detroit in his last start, now has a 10-6 won and lost mark. Bob Porterfield appeared to be "in" with a shutout of his own in the second game when the Red Sox became electric with energy and after Norm Zaichin hit a two-run homer made a rout of it, adding four singles and a double and also utilizing such devices as interference by the catcher, a sacrifice, a walk and a force out. Zaichin up for the second time hit the double for the final run.

Tigers Edge White Sox

The victory moved Boston within half a game of the fourth place Tigers who won a 10-inning struggle from the White Sox, 5-4, on a single by Frank House after Earl Torgeson walked and went to third.

In another change, Jim Finigan of the Kansas City Athletics regained the third base spot on the American League team by 7,135 votes over George Kell of the Chicago White Sox.

The Cokes held their lead throughout the game, scoring four in the first, one in the second, two in the third, and single runs in the fourth and fifth. DX scored its lone tally in the fourth on a single and three walks. Biggs, Stone, Aldridge and Spurlock had two safeties each, and Healy, Yates and Yarber had a hit apiece to round out the winners' 14-hit attack. Reid and Wathen garnered the losers' only safe blows. Dowdy was the losing pitcher.

In their second game of the day, DX won easily over the Tigers. Helfer, the winning hurler, allowed four runs on three hits and 10 bases, on balls, while striking out eight. The Chiefs scored 13 runs on 10 hits, four errors and six walks. D. Wathen, Reid, Wathen and Mitchell collected two safeties each. Holden had a home run, and Dowdy had a single for DX. Childress had a double and Dunning and D. Pickford had a single each for the losers.

Nick's barely won over James Bros. in a close game, 9-7. J. B. Henshaw allowed seven runs on five hits and struck out 19 of the opposing batsmen. Peck, Boyett, James pitcher, gave up nine runs on nine hits and took down 12 of Nick's batters via the strikeout route. Griffith, Henshaw, Jahn and Seten had two safeties and Ramsey had a single for the winners. Shelton had two hits and Abney, Boyett and James had one safe blow for the losers.

The Dodgers scored three runs in the last of the seventh to tie Pankey's, 9-9. Hunt, Pankey's pitcher, held the Dodgers to four hits, while Barrett, Dodger pitcher, gave up five hits. American People Want Peace, Molotov Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav V. M. Molotov sailed for home today declaring that the American people, like the Russians, want peace.

Molotov, ending his first visit to the United States in nine years, boarded the liner Queen Elizabeth an hour and 20 minutes before her sailing time.

He arrived surrounded by an entourage of Soviet diplomats and bodyguards in a freight elevator. He waved to cameramen, walked to a battery of microphones and delivered the following statement in Russian:

"First of all, I would like to express my gratitude for the warm reception and the attention given to the delegation of the U.S.S.R."

"We have become convinced that here in the United States, as well as in the Soviet Union, there are many, very many people who wish the peoples to live together in peace and amity."

"Permit me to wish the American people peace, prosperity and well being."

Union Calls For Top-Level Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the CIO United Steelworkers, said today "there is still ample time" to avert a nationwide steel strike if the heads of six of the nation's biggest steel firms join the crucial wage negotiations.

McDonald called for a top-level bargaining conference as steel producers across the country slashed production schedules in preparation for a midnight Thursday strike deadline affecting 600,000 USW members.

"There is still ample time to conclude a settlement by genuine collective bargaining with the real people in authority," the union leader said.

Harsh Bitter Words
McDonald hurled bitter words at Clifford H. Wood, U. S. Steel president, who said Tuesday night the union had "no valid reason" for rejecting the corporation's offer of wage increases averaging more than 10 cents an hour.

If Hood were "participating in the negotiations instead of spending his time going over publicly released in his headquarters, he would know that the steelworkers union is doing everything within its power to avert a nationwide strike," McDonald said.

U. S. Steel, the nation's biggest producer and employer 150,000 USW members, has been the main target of the union's drive for higher pay because its settlements usually set the pace for the entire industry.

House Committee Approves Military Reserve Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee today approved President Eisenhower's compromise compulsory military reserve program and paved the way for House consideration, possibly Thursday.

The new bill to create a 2,900,000 man ready reserve is aimed at by-passing a fight over racial segregation which stalled the administration's previous bill last month.

Committee approval came after President Eisenhower said again at a news conference that the program is vital to the country.

Some Rules Committee members had misgivings that the measure gives too much authority to "brass hats."

Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) and Rep. Ray J. Madden (D-Ind.) objected to a provision which would allow 250,000 pre-draft-age youths to enlist directly in the reserves under whatever regulations the secretary of defense shall prescribe.

"That leaves you at the mercy of the secretary of defense," Smith protested.

"This leaves it up to the brass hats," Madden added, to decide what requirements a pre-draft-age youth must meet to go into the reserves and so be exempt from the two-year draft.

Rep. Frank R. Bow (R-Ohio) said he would again offer his amendment to bar sending U. S. troops to any country where they are under foreign laws.

Run by Fire Department

A food disposal at the B. E. Hart home on South Vine street began smoking at noon today and an employee called the fire department when she could not turn off the unit. Fireman Wallace Feazel made a run to the residence and pulled a plug in the basement which stopped the action. There was no damage.

political gimmick" in the Stratton-Daley agreement.

The House and Senate put final approval on amendments to the 2½ per cent use tax aimed at revenues on out-of-state purchases and sent the bill to the governor. Final agreement also was reached on a tax bill to include finished items sold as part of service and construction under the sales tax.

3. Firemen's work week: The House passed and sent to the governor a bill for a 56-hour work week for firemen in downstate cities over 12,000 population. The vote was 91-13 with no debate since the House had passed its own bill on the matter previously.

4. Speed limit: The House defeated a Senate-passed and administration-backed bill for highway speed limits for all vehicles. The vote was 74-53—3 short of passage.

The bill would have set highway speed limits for cars at 65 m.p.h. in daytime, and 55 m.p.h. at night. It would have reset light truck and bus speeds at 55 m.p.h. and kept heavy truck speeds at 40 m. p. h.

Stratton delivered a stinging rebuke to the representatives who voted against the bill:

"Those members of the Legislature who voted against enactment of the maximum speed limit on the highways of Illinois will have to bear a grave responsibility for future highway slaughter," the statement said in part.

5. Broyles bills: The House passed the bill sponsored by Sen. Paul W. Broyles (R-Mount Vernon) to require state employees and all public school teachers to take a loyalty oath. The passage vote was 83-53.

Broyles and his House sponsors first promised to table a second bill which would have outlawed subversion, defined it and assessed penalties.

The loyalty oath bill bans spending any appropriation for any state agency or instrumentality, excepting municipalities, counties and townships, to pay the salary of any employee who refuses to take the oath.

Quiet Grandmother Wins $16,000; Has Chance for More

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Katherine E. Kreitzer said today the nicest thing about her winning $16,000 on a television program is that it has caused a lot of people to "dust off their Bibles."

The quiet little grandmother from Camp Hill, Pa., who has read the Bible daily for most of her 54 years, correctly identified seven brothers of the Biblical character, Joseph, Tuesday night on the Columbia Broadcasting System program, "Bible Quiz."

She won the choice of taking $16,000 in cash or trying next week to answer an even tougher question and bring her total winnings to $32,000.

Mrs. Kreitzer won $8,000 last week by giving the correct answer to another Biblical question.

"The $8,000 looks like a lot of money," she said. Then she asked for the $16,000 question.

She promptly gave Benjamin as the name of the youngest and then, without faltering, named Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar and Zebulun, as 6 of the other 11.

Next week she will again appear on the show and will get the choice of going home with $16,000 or trying to double it. If she correctly
